Customization

Members will have the option to customize their veggie box each week. It will be done through email and there will be a cut-off time to get your selections submitted (because we can't be modifying boxes at the last minute!). If you don't submit your selections before the cut-off, you'll still get veggies but they will be chosen by us.

Here's an example, you'll be able to choose one from each row:

- spinach or salad mix or romaine
- kale or swiss chard
- radishes or salad turnips
- carrots or baby beets
- cherry tomatoes or beefsteak tomatoes
- cucumbers or baby eggplant
- green zucchini or patty pan zucchini
- hot peppers or sweet peppers

There will be less choice in the first and last couple boxes, but plenty to choose from in mid-summer when everything should be abundant!

2019 Member Agreement

I agree to the following terms and conditions of Fair Sun Farm Weekly Veggie Box Program:

1. I agree to pay at least 50% of the balance immediately, and the full amount before June 1, 2019, unless other arrangements are made with the farmers.
2. I will receive a veggie box for 18 weeks starting in early June. I understand that during the first few weeks of the season, I should expect my box to be less diverse. This is due to the fact that there are fewer varieties of produce that can grow in the early season.
3. If I have a planned vacation during the harvest season, I can either:
 - a) Share my box with a friend on the week I am away. or
 - b) Skip a week and receive an additional box at the end of the 18 week. The farmers must be notified at least two weeks before the skipped week.
4. I understand that the pick-up times are strictly enforced. If I fail to pick up my box within the window specified for my site, my box will likely be donated to the local Food Bank that day. If something comes up that prevents me from picking up my box, I must make arrangements with a friend or family member to pick it up for me.
5. As a member, I share in the abundance of the harvest, as well as in the risks that come with farming. When joining this program, I agree to accept the fact that with natural systems, there can never be guarantees, and I agree to accept the consequences that come with taking this risk. It is possible that in any given year, our farm may become a victim to Mother Nature, and we may lose a crop to drought, disease, bugs, hail, or other unforeseeable events.
6. If I am for any reason dissatisfied with my membership this year, or it is not what I expected, I will communicate that to my farmers, so they can try to address it. If I am still not satisfied after communicating with my farmers, Fair Sun Farm will arrange a refund on a pro-rated basis.
7. I understand my email address will be the primary way the farm will communicate with me on a weekly basis during the season. It is my responsibility to read these emails if I want to stay informed of what is happening on the farm.
8. I understand that customizing my weekly box is done through email and has a cut-off time after which any orders submitted will not be accepted for that week. I understand that customization will have some limits due to crop sizes.
9. I understand that the contents of the weekly boxes are all certified organic.
